Our beloved Śrīla Prabhupāda,

Please accept our humble obeisances. All glories to Your Divine Grace on this most celebrated occasion of your Vyāsa-pūjā.

Śrīla Prabhupāda, you once stated that ISKCON is your body and the BBT your heart. Here at the African branch of your Bhaktivedanta Book Trust, we are diligently working to keep your mercy flowing throughout the vast African continent.

Under the careful guidance, love, and protection of your beloved son His Holiness Jayādvaita Swami, the BBT Africa team has grown over the past year and now consists of seventeen steadfast servitors working on translating, editing, printing, marketing, financing, and distributing Kṛṣṇa conscious literature. Based in Johannesburg, South Africa, we have established a network of ambassadors residing in countries like Botswana, Ghana, Kenya, Nigeria, Mauritius, the Democratic Republic of Congo, and Malawi. We have also been blessed with the association of traveling ambassadors such as His Holiness Kadamba Kānana Swami and His Holiness Bhakti Vāsudeva Swami.

Over the past year we have successfully hosted the Third Annual BBT Africa Conference, this year in Nairobi, Kenya. By streamlining the process of distributing your Back to Godhead magazine, we aim to increase the subscription base and make BTG available in more African countries. BBT Africa has also been successful in securing a building to facilitate devotees who are dedicating their lives to your service by publishing and distributing your books.

Thus far we have produced translations of Beyond Birth and Death in Zulu and Xhosa, and Perfect Questions, Perfect Answers in Xhosa and Kiswahili. We are currently working on thirty translations of many of your other books into indigenous African languages.

Śrīla Prabhupāda, on this most auspicious day we offer all our efforts at your lotus feet and humbly beg you to continue showering us with your blessings so we may quickly translate and publish all your books in as many African languages as possible.

Endeavoring to increase the saṅkīrtana movement, we remain

Your servants at the offices of the Bhaktivedanta Book Trust in Johannesburg, South Africa.

Dear Śrīla Prabhupāda,

Although it appears that you're gone from our vision, you live on with us all through your transcendental mission.
Dedicated life to your BBT, straight on the path of eternity.
Śrīla Prabhupāda, it's all about you—we're never without you.

Fire ablaze in this material world,
In the ocean of māyā we'd been tossed and hurled.
Captured by your books and the taste of prasād,
Amazingly our lives became a dedication to God.

Going out to the public, giving people a book,
Just get their attention, try to get them to look.
If they read one śloka or just one word,
Soon they'll be living in the temple, eating subji with curd.

Having your association was so very sweet,
Seeing you in Māyāpur and serving your lotus feet.
Morning walks in Vṛndāvan and happiness all the day—
You convinced us to make the vow to never, ever stray.

Temples, festivals, and devotees all over the world,
A dynamic celebration of cultural concern.
We thought it would last forever and have no end,
Our lifetime with you we would always spend.

But one day you left and we felt all alone.
All that we could do was sit and cry and moan.
But we picked ourselves up to keep spreading your mission.
We would be with you no matter what—that was our decision.

Now years have passed, and preaching is like a brand new dawn, where devotees act, serve, and feel like you have never gone.
You never really left us: you're always in our hearts,
our thoughts, our prayers—everywhere, we're never apart.

And the time soon will come when we all will have to leave—karmaṇā daiva-netreṇa, our next life we will weave.
Our journey from birth, old age, and disease.
Śrīla Prabhupāda, take me with you, please.

Dear Śrīla Prabhupāda,

Please accept our humble obeisances. All glories to Your Divine Grace's appearance!

On July 13, 1975, in Philadelphia, a learned scholar asked you, "Of all the things you have written, what do you consider most important?"

Your Divine Grace replied, "Prema pumārtho mahān. The most important thing is to love God."

The professor then asked, "If you had to tell someone to preserve one small section of your work, what would you want them to preserve?"

You replied, "That is stated in a few words. [Aside to one of your disciples:] Find out this verse: dharmasya hy āpavargasya."

A disciple reads:

dharmasya hy āpavargasya nārtho 'rthāyopakalpate nārthasya dharmāikāntasya kāmo lābhāya hi smṛtaḥ

"All occupational engagements are certainly meant for ultimate liberation. They should never be performed for material gain. Furthermore, according to sages, one who is engaged in the ultimate occupational service should never use material gain to cultivate sense gratification." (Śrīmad-Bhāgavatam 1.2.9)

Professor: "Do you think, then that this message is the most important one you have to convey?"

You: "That is the most important message, because you are not this material body."

Almost a year later, in a conversation on June 5, 1976, as recounted in Hari Śauri Prabhu's Transcendental Dairy, some devotees in Los Angeles suggested to you that they wanted to focus on certain sections of the Caitanya-caritāmṛta. You replied:

You want to scrutinizingly study Caitanya Mahāprabhu's instructions, but why just the part about the gopīs? Why don't you scrutinizingly study where Caitanya Mahāprabhu says, guru more mūrkhā dekhi' karila śāsana, that His guru found Him to be a fool and told Him he was not fit for anything but chanting Hare Kṛṣṇa? Why don't you scrutinize that part?

At Caitanya-caritāmṛta Madhya 22.113, this verse is quoted from the Padma Purāṇa:

smartavyaḥ satataṁ viṣṇur vismartavyo na jātucit sarve vidhi-niṣedhāḥ syur etayor eva kiṅkarāḥ

"Kṛṣṇa is the origin of Lord Viṣṇu. He should always be remembered and never forgotten at any time. All the rules and prohibitions mentioned in the sastras should be the servants of these two principles." In the purport you comment, "This chanting of sixteen rounds is absolutely necessary if one wants to remember Kṛṣṇa and not forget Him. Of all the regulative principles, the spiritual master's order to chant at least sixteen rounds is most essential."

Since all your instructions are most important, and we hold sacred your emphasis, we therefore simply pray that we may forever hear, produce, and distribute all your books in all the languages of the world to the best of our ability.
